

COMFORT FOR CHILDREN IN HARD TIMES

something SCARY
happened

Written by
DARBY A.
STRICKLAND

Illustrated by
CARLOTTA NOTARO

A whimsical illustration of a meadow. The foreground is a rolling green hill with various plants, including dandelions and small white flowers. The sky is filled with many dandelion seeds and heads, some of which are large and stylized with intricate patterns. A small lamb is running across the hill, chasing a dandelion seed. The lamb has a blue and white plaid collar and is eating a piece of green grass. The overall style is soft and artistic, with a focus on natural elements.

Miles was a happy little lamb.

He lived in a meadow and ate green grass and dandelions.

Sometimes he chased the dandelions instead of eating them.

Miles liked to play with his friends. They played hide-and-peek and soccer.

Miles was pretty good at the FINDING part...

... and really good at the KICKING part!

But one day something scary happened!

Miles was so scared that he didn't know what to do.

So he shut his eyes tight,
put his hooves over his ears,
and pretended that nothing
bad had happened.

