

1 PETER

FOLLOWING JESUS

10 Publishing
a division of 10ofthose.com

Unless otherwise stated, Scripture quotations are taken from THE HOLY BIBLE, NEW INTERNATIONAL VERSION (Anglicised Edition). Copyright © 1979, 1984, 2011 by Biblica (formerly International Bible Society). Used by permission of Hodder & Stoughton Publishers. All rights reserved. 'NIV' is a registered trademark of Biblica. UK trademark number 1448790.

Copyright © 2017 by Julia Marsden

First published in Great Britain in 2017

The right of Julia Marsden to be identified as the Author of this Work has been asserted by her in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior permission of the publisher or a licence permitting restricted copying.

British Library Cataloguing in Publication Data

A record for this book is available from the British Library

ISBN: 978-1-911272-22-9

Designed by Diane Warnes

Printed in the UK

10Publishing, a division of 10ofthose.com

Unit C, Tomlinson Road, Leyland, PR25 2DY, England

Email: info@10ofthose.com

Website: www.10ofthose.com

J. Marsden

48 UNDATED DEVOTIONS
THROUGH THE BOOK OF 1 PETER

How do you find living as a Christian at the moment? There is much that is wonderful about being a Christian, but there is much that is hard too.

Everyone experiences difficulties in life, but becoming a Christian can add a whole set of extra ones. At times we may wonder if we will be able to keep going at following Christ. Will it all be worth it?

The letter we are going to read was written by Peter, one of Jesus' first followers. Peter's own Christian life had had its problems and pressures – and failures too. Peter knew first-hand that all of us need God's grace and help to keep going in following Jesus.

Peter's readers were Christians living in the first-century Middle East. They were facing all kinds of difficulties as well. It wasn't just one thing that was troubling them; Peter says that they 'have had to suffer grief in all kinds of trials' (1:6, my italics). Some of these trials were happening to them just because they were Christians.

Have a look at these snapshots from different parts of Peter's letter. How many of these difficulties can you identify with?

- These Christians were being insulted because of the name of Christ (4:14).
- People were speaking maliciously against them (3:16).
- They were being falsely accused of doing wrong (2:12).

- People thought the way they lived was strange (4:4).

Some of these Christians also had close family members who did 'not believe the word', with all the heartache and tensions that can bring (3:1). Peter's readers faced opposition in the spiritual realm too. Their enemy, the devil, was prowling around 'like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour' (5:8).

And these Christians still had 'sinful desires' raging in their own hearts – waging war against their souls (see 2:11). Even their fellow Christians brought them grief at times. Why else would Peter need to urge his friends to 'love each other deeply, because love covers over a multitude of sins' (4:8, my italics)?

These believers were certainly experiencing all kinds of trials. Would they keep going as Christians? Peter writes to help them to do just that. Peter's words can help us too.

PRAY

Talk to God about your own trials and griefs, especially those that have come your way because you are a Christian. Ask God to help you keep going in following Christ.

Before we start reading Peter's letter from the beginning, we are going to look at one verse right at its end. Here Peter tells these stressed and suffering Christians what he hopes his letter will do for them. This verse tells us what this letter can do for us too. Peter writes:

With the help of Silas, whom I regard as a faithful brother, I have written to you briefly, encouraging you and testifying that this is the true grace of God. Stand fast in it (1 Pet. 5:12).

- Peter says he has been doing two things in his letter. What are they?

When we are finding things tough, we need someone to come alongside us and encourage us. Peter wants to spur these believers on to keep going. He has also been telling them why it is so important that they do.

'Testifying' sounds like something you might do in a law court under oath. It means declaring something is really true, whatever anyone else may say. Peter has been writing about Jesus and about following him. He wants to reassure his friends and convince them all over again. This gospel about Jesus really is the only way to experience God's grace.

- What does Peter also call on his Christian friends to do?

Embracing this gospel will bring suffering as well as joy now, but these believers mustn't be thrown off course. They are on the right track. There are always counterfeit 'gospels' around that offer an easier path through life. But these counterfeits will not bring us God's grace. As rebellious sinners deserving God's judgment, we need God's grace so much.

Peter's readers had already received 'the true grace of God'. The gospel about Jesus' death and resurrection had been preached to them. They had been born again spiritually as they came to believe in Jesus. We will read all about that in chapter 2.

So they have begun as Christians. These believers have taken their stand on the great truths of the gospel of Jesus. But they must also 'stand fast' in 'the true grace of God' as the pressures mount. It is the only way they, and we, will stay safe in eternity.

PRAY

Pray that this letter would encourage you and reassure you that the gospel is 'the true grace of God' so that you do 'stand fast in it'.